Cube Hydro
Location:	USA
Type:	Infrastructure: Unlisted
Ownership:	2.5%

Cube Hydro owns and operates a portfolio of 19 hydropower assets on ten rivers across the United States. They focus on small to mid-sized facilities including run-of-the-river and peaking power plants providing a stable source of renewable energy to around 130,000 homes. LGIASuper earns revenue from electricity sales, capacity payments, renewable energy credits and fee income.

What makes it COR?

Demand is growing for renewable and carbon-free power sources. LGIASuper earns stable and predictable revenue from electricity sales, capacity payments, renewable energy credits and fee income.

COR Investments:

Our superannuation products that include COR DNA comprise of a percentage of investments strategically chosen to deliver stable returns and protect balances through the good times and the bad. These have a number of COR attributes that may include:

- Insulated from the volatility of the stock market
- Innovative direct investments, which have unique qualities like infrastructure with a monopoly, e.g. gas pipelines
- Pre-contracted return on investment
- Material stake in direct ownership – tangible assets with assured revenue or other unique qualities

Australian Infrastructure Investments:

Utilities investments are part of our diversified COR investment strategy. Utilities provide services that are essential for our daily lives; their consistent year-on-year demand delivers predictable and long-term returns. The nature of utilities are that they are often large-scale with legislative barriers to entry and long operating life-cycles, providing relatively stable cash flows.

“As an LGIASuper member you own part of Cube Hydro, a renewable power powering nearly 130,000 homes in the United States. It is one of our COR investments as it delivers a stable source of high-demand renewable energy that will deliver long-term sustainable returns.”
