

Dear member,

An exciting invitation is near.

Very soon, our door will be open to welcome everyone to enjoy the many benefits of LGIAsuper. You're welcome to continue to grow with us, and you can invite others to share in our high-performing fund.

In July, the Queensland Government announced legislative changes that, once passed, will allow LGIAsuper to welcome new members who don't have a connection to Queensland local government. This is fantastic news, as many members have asked us how their families, friends, workmates and others in their community can join our fund.

Stay and grow

The legislation changes will also provide local government employees with Choice of Fund for the first time. LGIAsuper will continue to be the default superannuation fund for Queensland local government employees. Your employers' contribution, and any contributions you are required to make, will remain the same wherever you contribute. As always, delivering trusted superannuation, advice and insurance to our members and employers will continue to be our highest priority.

The same great, highly recognised super fund

It's important that you know that this change will not impact the fees you pay, the way your money is invested or LGIAsuper's structure.

We will stay 100% committed to helping you build a better future. We'll continue to deliver the same secure services and industry-leading performance that you've always relied on.

Minor name changes

Following the name change from LGsuper to LGIAsuper in February 2016, we will also change the name of our Trustee from the Queensland Local Government Superannuation Board to LGIAsuper Trustee, and the name of our Fund from Local Government Superannuation Scheme to LGIAsuper. These are changes in names only and will eliminate any remaining confusion in the market.

We will keep you up-to-date on the progress of the legislation through our website, lgiasuper.com.au.

Let's grow together as we welcome your family, workmates and community to share in a future with growth.

Kind regards,

David Todd
