

LGIAsuper is a complying superannuation fund

You have received this letter because you are either:

- an employer and your employee would like to have contributions paid to their LGIAsuper account
- a superannuation fund and have received a request from an LGIAsuper member to transfer all or part of their benefit with your fund to their LGIAsuper account.

Here are some details you may require about LGIAsuper.

Fund name: LGIAsuper

ABN: 23 053 121 564

USI: QLG0001AU

Trustee: LGIAsuper Trustee (RSE Licence: L0000178)

Complying fund statement

This is to confirm that LGIAsuper (Registrable Superannuation Entity Registration Number R1000160):

- has been a complying resident regulated superannuation fund since 1 July 1995 within the meaning of the Superannuation Industry (Supervision) Act 1993 (SIS)
- has never received a notice of non-compliance from the Australian Prudential Regulation Authority or a notice directing LGIAsuper not to accept employer contributions
- will accept all types of contributions (including Superannuation Guarantee contributions) from any employer on behalf of employees with an LGIAsuper account
- will accept transfers of benefits from other funds and can accept and hold preserved benefits in the manner prescribed under SIS
- has an authorised MySuper product (LGIAsuper's MySuper Lifecycle option) and can accept default contributions from employers (MySuper Product Unique Identifier: 23053121564638).

Employers contributing to an employee's LGIAsuper account

LGIAsuper will accept contributions from employers via any clearing house including LGIAsuper's own clearing house service. If you have fewer than 20 employees you can also use the Small Business Superannuation Clearing House. This service is provided by the Australian Government, administered by the Australian Taxation Office and free of charge.

To use the LGIAsuper clearing house, you will need to register as a participating employer. See the LGIAsuper clearing house info sheet on our website for more information about how we can help you make contributions for all your employees, to any number of super funds with one easy EFT or direct debit payment.
